Intensive Immune Support and Defense*

Six Researched Mushroom Varieties

Mycoceutics® Immune Max blends six botanically-enhanced functional mushrooms, which work together synergistically to provide a broad spectrum of benefits for intensive immune support and long-term wellness.*

- Coriolus (Coriolus versicolor)
- Reishi (Ganoderma lucidum)
- Agaricus (Agaricus blazei)
- Cordyceps (Cordyceps sinensis)
- Umbellatus (Polyporus umbellatus)
- Maitake (Grifola frondosa)

Revolutionary Mushroom Cultivation

The six potent mushroom varieties in Mycoceutics® Immune Max are grown using a first-in-class, revolutionary botanical enhancement technique that increases their beneficial properties. Each mushroom is carefully cultivated indoors in the US on a blend of immune-supporting herbs and organic brown rice.

intensive support for immune activity*

This nutrient-dense growing medium is rich in powerful phytochemicals that are absorbed and assimilated into the mushroom biomass, resulting in potent and powerful mushrooms with the highest level of immune-supportive compounds.*

Additional Beta Glucans for Increased Immune Benefits

Mycocetotics® Immune Max is also fortified with powerful immune-support compounds called beta glucans, added to the finished formula for increased benefits. Beta glucans are found in the cell walls of mushrooms and other sources, and work to regulate and optimize immune cell function for greater immune efficiency and effectiveness.*
